

RIVERSIDE

Product Information & Data Sheet

Riverside contains a diverse assortment of colors. This natural stone veneer has whites, tans, browns, light grays, medium grays, and a range of colors in between. The texture of Riverside is predominately smooth with a washed and clean feel. This natural stone veneer is great for lake houses or coastal homes. Cobblestones like Riverside can also be referred to as boulders, rounds, or round side out stone. Riverside is not a quarried stone but collected from a natural geological deposit. This natural stone veneer is best suited to be installed with a half-inch or slightly larger mortar joint.
