

BODIAM

Product Information & Data Sheet

Bodiam is a natural castle rock style real stone veneer in predominantly grey tones. The stone has a subtle touch or splash of color but maintains a largely neutral feel. Although Bodiam appears grey from a distance, closer inspection reveals the many muted and varied colors within the stone.

Bodiam has very flat faces that are smooth in terms of stone. The texture of Bodiam resembles fine sandpaper. If desired and installed correctly, this is one of the few natural stone veneers that can be used for a patio surface without any modifications. On a horizontal surface, the stone should be installed over concrete.
