

ARCTIC

Product Information & Data Sheet

Arctic is a mosaic style real stone veneer with beautiful depth of color. The natural sandstone quarry from which Arctic is unearthed does not have as many well-defined layers as some of our other sandstone quarries. This inconsistency in the layers of stone leads to variations in the colors and texture which provides Arctic with its unique character. The texture can be described as pimpled, gator-skin, wavy or a combination of the three textures. The thin stone will have shades of blue, grey and brown. Unique to Arctic, shades of all three colors can be found within an individual piece of stone.
